Columbia Center for the ARTS

Started as a small community gallery in 1974, Columbia Art Gallery has become a must-see art venue that regularly invites outstanding Pacific Northwest artists to be involved in dynamic monthly shows.

The shows are designed for a broad range of interests with themes ranging from the sublime to the outrageous. Enjoy a new art show and artist reception each month!

ARTS EDUCATION & OUTREACH

Columbia Arts offers both child and adult arts education programs in visual, literary and performing arts. Children of all ages enjoy innovative instruction in after-school and summer programs; while adults have the opportunity to participate in an annual teacher arts institute, a professional development fair, and studio classes for recreational, emerging and professional artists.

COLUMBIA ARTS STAGE TROUPE (CAST)

Founded as a grassroots effort in 1978, CAST has a proud history of providing live theater for residents of the Columbia River Gorge. CAST offers opportunities for people to become involved in theater through viewing, acting, directing and producing. The Center hosts plays, dance performances, concerts, lectures and films in our state of the art theater space.
